MARKSMEN FROM HAWAII SCORE AT FLORIDA MATCH

Sgt. Thomas J. K. Evans Winner of National Individual Medal, and Will Be Member of All National Guard Team

SGT. JAMES HO STANDS NEAR TOP OF BIG LIST

Gets Twenty-sixth Place Out of Field of 728 Competitors; Evans Will Face Crucial Test at Big Match on Friday

(Special Wireless to Star-Bulletin). JACKSONVILLE, Fla., October 20.—In the national individual match of the National Rifle Association shoot here yesterday, Sgt. Thomas J. K. Evans of the Hawaii team made the highest score, winning the national individual match medal.

Sgt. James Ho, out of a field of 728 competitors, stood twenty-sixth in the same match. Evans is placed on the All-National Guard team to compete in the united service match to be held Friday in competition with the U. S. Army, Navy and Marine Corps teams. Both Ho and Evans are members of the 1st Infantry, National Guard of Hawaii.

Lieut. Col. William R. Riley, commanding 1st Infantry, N. G. H., has been elected a director of the National Rifle Association.

The above despatch received today by the Star-Bulletin from Capt. Laurence W. Redington, assistant to the adjutant-general and special correspondent of this paper at the national rifle competition in Jacksonville, created the greatest enthusiasm at National Guard headquarters when shown to National Guardsmen at the armory by a Star-Bulletin reporter.

First Time in Service Match.

The splendid record made by Sgt. James Ho of Company F, 1st Infantry, in winning 26th place out of a field of 728 competitors, and Sgt. Thomas J. K. Evans, who won the national individual match medal yesterday, means that the National Guard of Hawaii, for the first time in its history, has a representative on the All-National Guard team in the united service match.

It also means that both men will bring back more medals and cash prizes than have ever been won before by the Hawaii team. "We'll sure have to give them a luau when they get back," was the way one National Guardsman expressed his jubilation on hearing the news.

By winning the national individual medal, Evans becomes eligible to enter the united service match as a member of the All-National Guard team consisting of the 16 National Guardsmen shooting the highest scores in the national individual match.

Big Shoot on Friday.

These 16 men, representing all National Guards of the United States, will shoot Friday against teams selected from the U. S. Army, Marine Corps and Navy. Sgt. Ho will not be on this team, but his achievement is nevertheless a remarkable one.

Distance and order of fire for the national individual match are as follows:

Rapid fire, 200 and 300 yards; 10 shots at each range, with no sighting shots.

Slow fire, 300, 600 and 1000 yards; 15 shots at each range, with no sighting shots.

Sgt. Evans will bring back a gold medal to Honolulu as his reward for winning the national individual match. He also receives a prize of $60 in gold coin, and has a chance to win the gold medal for the highest score in slow fire and a $20 prize, also a gold medal for the highest aggregate score in rapid fire, this including a $20 cash prize.

WITNESS FOUND HIDING BEHIND CLOTHES PRESS

Hieshima, Wanted for Scully-Chilton Case, Questioned at Seance After Midnight

TELLS ONE STORY, THEN DECLARES IT ALL A LIE

Contradicts Last Night's Statement When Put on Witness Stand in Court Today

In the "wee sma" hours this morning—about the time when the roosters were beginning to crow and the milkmen were starting on their rounds—a seance conducted by Attorney W. T. Carden was held in the office of the city and county attorney.

George Hieshima, the "missing witness" for the prosecution in the Scully-Chilton conspiracy case, and who was alleged to have jumped out of a window when Detective Harry Lake was solemnly chanting through a subpoena, had been found.

Therefore, when the conspiracy trial was resumed in Circuit Judge Ashford's court this morning the prosecution moved for permission to reopen its case in order that it might call and examine Hieshima.

Deputy City Attorney Carden opened the fireworks by declaring that should proof be asked for, he would prove that the "missing witness" could not be located for the reason that he had been in hiding for an entire week and that Willmot R. Chilton, one of the defendants, had requested him so to hide.

Hiding Behind Clothes Press.

It developed during the examination of Hieshima that about midnight last night Detective Lake, accompanied by a Japanese sleuth and Liquor License Inspector W. P. Fennell, had visited a house in a lane in Vineyard street, near the White Seal Laundry, and had found Hieshima hiding behind a clothes press in a room in the place. Lake read the subpoena to the Japanese.

The Japanese and the officers then went down to the city attorney's office, where the mysterious seance was held. It was testified that those present at the meeting were Carden, Lake, Fennell, Attorney Charles Chillingworth, Police Officer Kellett and the Japanese detective.

Attorney Carden this morning produced a letter written on the stationery of the erstwhile Waikiki Inn and dated September 1, 1914, which read as follows:

"The day that I was a witness before the license commission in behalf of the Waikiki Inn and during the meeting, Scully to lead me to go and phone to Charlie Lundin, then bookkeeper at Waikiki, and say to hold the party there; that means Chilton and the party."

The statement bore the signature of George Hieshima, witnessed by F. H. Kanne.

Says Fennell Wrote Letter.

Hieshima testified that the letter had been written by Fennell, but signed by him, Hieshima.

The witness stated that the con-

FIGHT AGAINST LIQUOR LICENSE FOR LEE CHONG

Anti-Saloon League Prepared to Make Protest at Hearing Tomorrow Afternoon

If the board of liquor license commissioners, at its meeting in the assembly hall of the supervisors at 3:45 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, takes up for consideration the application of Lee Chong, a restaurant proprietor, for a second class liquor license, a vigorous protest against the granting of such a license will be entered by the Anti-Saloon League.

This is according to Dr. John W. Wadman, superintendent of the league, who today outlined the league's reasons for entering a protest. Doctor Wadman stated that Lee Chong owns a restaurant at 93 King street, a short distance walk from the public market. The application of Lee Chong, said Doctor Wadman, calls for special privileges, including permission to keep the restaurant open until 1 o'clock in the morning.

"There are several reasons why the Anti-Saloon League is desirous of seeing this application refused," he continued. "In the first place, there is no present need of increasing the liquor establishments in that section of the city where the restaurant of Lee Chong is located."

"Secondly, there is the same reason that influenced the liquor board to remove all drinking places in the vicinity of the public markets about a year ago."

As a third reason, Doctor Wadman said that the keeping of a restaurant with an upstairs and with private rooms, and open until 1 o'clock in the morning, will prove a menace to the morals of young people.

NAVY INCREASE PLANS TO COST $120,000,000

Total Appropriation for Year is Expected to Total About Quarter of Billion

SEVENTY MILLION FOR FOUR BIGGEST VESSELS

Two Dreadnoughts, Two Battle Cruisers and Five Third-Class Cruisers Wanted

By C. S. ALBERT.

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondent) WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—National defense has loomed large upon the horizon here during the past seven days. Indications are that this intensity of interest will continue and grow, until the problem finally is determined by congress next winter.

The National Defense League, with several auxiliaries, held a session here. The newly selected naval advisory board saw the president and held its first meeting for outlining plans. To this board the president made a speech in which he favored a larger army and navy, saying the United States must be prepared for all future contingencies. The president, Secretary Daniels and Chairman Padgett of the house naval affairs committee met and discussed the degree of increase which should be recommended for the navy. Officials of the G. A. R. urged better preparedness.

Views of Administration.

The conference between the president, Secretary Daniels and Chairman Padgett was important because its eventual results will outline the administration's views concerning naval betterment. The program will not be definitely arranged for ten days or two weeks. The best judgment of officials and naval experts points to this outcome:

A tentative program for the next fiscal year provides for either $112,500,000 or $120,000,000 for the "increase" in the navy.

The navy provided for the increase in the navy for the year 1916-17 was about $49,000,000.

This year's program, if carried out, would probably authorize the construction of 2 dreadnoughts and 2 battle cruisers at a total cost of $70,000,000.

Five cruisers of the third class, at a cost of $15,000,000, or 16 destroyers, at a cost of $18,000,000.

Thirty-five submarines, most of which would be for coast defense and several of which would be seagoing vessels, to cost $20,000,000.

Aircraft to cost from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Much Work Handled.
